Jornal Information

V(eliko)T(arnovo) U(niversity) Review is a double-blind, peer-reviewed academic journal, established in 2017 and published by “St. Cyril and St. Methodius” University of Veliko Tarnovo, Bulgaria. The journal comes out twice a year and is intended for an international audience. It is published both in print form and electronically as an open access publication. The language of the journal is English.

VTU Review is dedicated to publishing and disseminating innovative research in the humanities and social sciences. The disciplines covered by the journal are literary, cultural, and language studies, history, archaeology, sociology, political science, social psychology, and anthropology.

Each issue focuses on a special topic but also includes a Varia section, which contains articles unrelated to it. A book review section keeps readers informed of locally and internationally published books in the humanities and social sciences. Individual issues may include interviews with eminent writers, scholars, and social scientists, as well as forums on key developments in the disciplines covered by the journal.

VTU Review considers all submitted manuscripts on the condition that

- the manuscript is the author's/authors' own original work, and does not duplicate any other previously published work, including previously published work by the same author(s);
- the manuscript has been submitted only to VTU Review; it is not under consideration, or accepted for publication, or in press, or published elsewhere;
- the manuscript contains nothing that is abusive, defamatory, obscene, fraudulent, or illegal.

VTU Review* does not have any article processing or submission charges for authors.

Instructions for Authors

The journal publishes articles, review essays, and shorter book reviews. Detailed instructions for manuscript submission are to be found on the journal's webpage at <http://journals.uni-vt.bg/vtureview/eng/>

This issue of V(eliko) T(arnovo) U(niversity) Review: Studies in the Humanities and Social Sciences focuses on significant aspects of Irish and European culture, literature, and history. Apart from four articles, which explore these and other related topics, and an interview with an eminent Irish writer, two more texts are included under Varia. The issue also comprises a review essay and four reviews of internationally and locally published books on subjects ranging from world literature, through post-humanism, to Enlightenment ideology and its legacy in the present.
